States, January 24, 1848 The House being in Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union, and having under consideration the President s Annual Message, (Mr. J. R. Ingersoll, of Pennsylvania, in the Chair) - Mr. Dixon (of Connecticut) addressed the Committee as follows: Mr. Chairman: When the resolution tendering the thanks of Congress to General Taylor was before this House, a short time since, a member from Indiana offered an amendment, to the effect that the battles in which Gen. Taylor had been engaged, were fought in defence of the rights and honor of the nation. This amendment my friend from Massachusetts, (Mr. Ashmun,) immediately proposed to amend, by adding thereto these words - In A War Unnecessarily And Unconstitutionally Commenced By The President Of The United States. For this proposition of the gentleman from Massachusetts I voted. I believed it true then; I believe it true now. I rejoiced when the gentleman, with his accustomed promptitude and readiness, proposed his amendment, and have never given a vote more willingly in this House than on that occasion. It will be, sir, a part of my object, in addressing the Committee at this time, to prove the truth of the proposition then adopted by the majority of this House. I dare not flatter myself that, in the discussion of this question, I shall be able to present any thing new to the attention of the committee. The subject has been so fully and so ably treated, not only in...
